Production

FMU
FLORIDA MEMORIAL UNIVERSITY

SCHOOL OF
ARTS AND SCIENCES

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Our Music Production program emphasizes the creative and technical foundations of music creation. It is designed to prepare students for careers in the music and entertainment industries through an integrated approach to music theory, composition, arranging, audio engineering, and digital production. The program encourages artistic innovation while developing strong technical proficiency with industry-standard tools and software. Approved electives provide opportunities for students to explore additional areas such as education, business, communication, or instrumental performance. This degree program requires at least 123 semester hours for completion.
